DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-12 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jehn (5,284,345). Regarding claim 23, figure 1 of Jehn discloses a training device comprising housing having a laser (item 1), a swivel member (col. 2, lines 13-16), and an affixing means (col 2, line 58). Jehn also discloses dowels between the connection of the swivel members, which allows the swivel member to be moved, i.e fixed or unfixed (col. 4, lines 5-12). Regarding claims 5 and 6, Jehn discloses Velcro as the fastening means (col 58). Regarding claims 8-10, the location of the device on the golfers body does not further limit the structure. Regarding claims 11 and 12, the direction of the laser is a method of use and does not further limit the structure. Although Jen does not specifically recite that the dowels allow the swivel member to be fixed or unfixed, one of ordinary skill in the art would construe the actual movement of the member as the unfixed position and the stationary position of the member as the fixed position.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jehn in view of Cannone (4,406,040). Jehn discloses the invention as shown above but fails to disclose a clip as the fastening means. Cannone teaches a clip as the fastening means (fig 2-4). One skilled in the art would have modified the fastening means to provide a secure connection.

Response to Arguments

After further consideration the indicated allowability of claim 23 has been withdrawn. The rejection above sets forth the explanation.
